

Why should you be a coach at Startup Central?

Great that you are considering being a coach at Startup Central

Being a coach at Startup Central pays 100 times over.

It gives you good karma and good conscience. You have done a good deed when you are a coach of Startup Central.

The help you pass on to the entrepreneurs is worth its weight in gold, they value it more than you think.

You are helping to strengthen the Startup Ecosystem in Denmark and there is a need for that. You will be a part of many entrepreneurs' journey towards their dream, you can help them succeed with their business.

You will have the opportunity to meet a lot of exciting entrepreneurs and hear about their amazing ideas. Even if your work as a coach is voluntarily, your coaching may well develop into a paid partnership between you and the entrepreneur.

The practical

Your coach work will be voluntary, so it is also important that you are willing to put a few hours into it.

All our members know that your work is voluntary and therefore agree to a response time of 5 working days.

This is done in the way that our members will contact you through our platform Startupcentral.dk, and you will receive an email that there is a member who has reached out to you. All communication takes place through the platform, is the conversation taken outside the platform, this is up to the individual, but all correspondence outside the Startup Central, we have no control over.

If you are not the right coach that the member has reached out to on a given topic, you just send them our way, then we will guide them to the right coach

A role as coach in Startup Central

What we expect from you as a coach:

- that you love to help others
- that you possess relevant knowledge that will benefit entrepreneurs
- that you have time to help entrepreneurs
- that you are fully or partially active in our network
- that you tell entrepreneurs about your role in Startup Central

What we offer:

- free access to our digital network
- free access to future events
- a profiled page with your area of expertise
- opportunity to collaborate on content
- to send entrepreneurs in your direction
- General exposure of your profile

So if you have a lot of relevant knowledge that you would like to share, add the coach title to your resume.

startupcentral.dk
info@startupcentral.dk